

INDIE BOOK AWARDS 2023

For the best Australian books of 2022

About the awards

Established in 2008, the Indie Book Awards celebrate the best Australian writing as nominated and selected by Australian independent booksellers. The awards also recognise and celebrate the role Australian independent booksellers play in promoting and nurturing Australian writing.

Booksellers nominate across six categories – Fiction, Non-fiction, Debut Fiction, Illustrated Non-Fiction, Children’s, and Young Adult – as well as vote for the overall ‘Book of the Year’.

The Awards provide Australian independent booksellers with an opportunity to promote their point of difference, supporting Australian authors and publishers, promoting cultural diversity, and giving informed recommendations and advice to their customers.

The Awards provide local publishers with significant sales and publicity potential for titles that are longlisted, shortlisted, for titles named category winners and for the title named overall Indie ‘Book of the Year’.

Leading Edge Books are proud to coordinate the administration and promotion of the Indie Book Awards.

2023 Guidelines

Nomination & Judging Process

1. Australian independent booksellers are invited to nominate their bookshop’s favourite titles from 2022 (a maximum of 4 titles per category) in the following categories: Fiction, Non-Fiction, Debut Fiction, Illustrated Non-Fiction, Children’s and Young Adult
2. One nomination submission per independent bookshop will be accepted. No submissions from online-only or franchisee stores will be accepted.
3. A Longlist of 60 titles will be announced on 7th December 2022.
4. A Shortlist of 24 titles (4 titles per category) will be announced on 18th January 2023.
5. The Judging panels, each consisting of 4 independent booksellers, members of Leading Edge Books, and 1 Leading Edge Books Support Office staff will read all shortlisted titles and choose what they consider the highest quality title in each category.
6. A Category Winner will be chosen in each category based on judges’ rankings.
7. All participating Australian independent bookstores, those taking part in the award nomination process, will be invited to vote for a single book from the 6 category winners as their choice of the overall Book of the Year 2023.
8. The winners of each category and the overall Book of the Year will be officially announced on 20th March 2023.

Eligibility

1. To be eligible, books submitted for the Awards should be published between 1 January 2022 and 31 December 2022 and be entirely authored and illustrated by current Australian citizens or permanent residents.
2. Only original editions published within 2022 calendar year will be considered.

3. Eligibility for the Debut Fiction category is limited to authors who have no previous fiction works published in Australia.
4. Poetry, short stories collections and novellas are eligible for nomination.
5. Books can be co-authored or co-created, but all creators, authors and illustrators must be current Australian citizens or permanent residents. Edited collections are not eligible.
6. All works must be in English and have been published in printed book form. Bilingual editions where one of the languages is English are also eligible.
7. All entries must consist entirely of the author/s original work.
8. The majority decision of the judges and Leading Edge Books/its nominee on the interpretation of all Awards rules and conditions shall be final and legally binding and no correspondence will be entered into.
9. Publishers of the 24 shortlisted titles will be expected to contribute $300 ex GST per title towards the cost of production and distribution of the Shortlist POS.
10. Category winning publishers will be expected to contribute an additional $550 ex GST per title towards the costs of production and distribution of category winners & overall winner POS.
11. Publishers will be asked to make publicity resources available to Leading Edge, and our designated publicist for the specific purpose of promoting their shortlisted and winning author/s.
12. Authors will be made available for interview and events where possible.
13. Publishers will be expected to provide 6 printed copies of each shortlisted title for judging purposes and for promotions in store and via social media.

Important Information for Authors and Publishers

Promotion & Publicity

Point of Sale and Display materials will be produced and distributed by Leading Edge Books to all participating Australian independent booksellers along with digital assets to share via Social Media.

- Shortlist POS - each participating store to receive Shortlist posters.
- Category winners and the Indie Book Awards 'Book of the Year 2023' winner POS - each participating store to receive a POS kit containing: poster, bookmarks, stickers, shelftalkers and counter cards.

A dedicated multi-stage Indie Book Awards publicity and PR campaign will be run by a freelance publicist, ensuring wider media reach and maximum opportunities for the promotion of longlisted, shortlisted and winning books.

- National press releases for the announcement of Awards Longlist, Shortlist, Category Winners and overall Indie Book Awards 'Book of the Year' winner.
- Local press release drafted for stores to target their local communities and customers.
- Social media campaign to promote longlisted, shortlisted, category winning titles and Book of the Year.

Sponsorship Opportunities

The Indie Book Awards provide publishers, industry bodies, cultural institutions and corporations with an opportunity to be associated with a highly positive industry event - awards which recognise and celebrate the role of independent booksellers, contribute to the positive growth of Australian publishing and to increased sales of locally published titles.
